Volume 22, Issue 14

Social Notes: Happy Birthday to Frankie last Wednesday and Happy 25th Anniversary to Jay & Colleen on Thursday! Correction: Kristin Turner graduated this year! Zack was last year!

40+ Years Ago Today...The first candy store was this old plumbers truck Dad had out in back...John Phillips and I made shelves on the inside and painted them red, white & blue stripes. The back doors opened and we had a lawn chair back there. We drove site to site selling our wares — no AC of course, so most of it was melted! Ok so that part hasn't changed.

Brianna and friends enjoyed Carol's Crafts Saturday!

Seasonal Agreements—

For 2014 are available at the office if you are planning to return. Please sign & pay the winter storage by Aug. 1. The rate next year will be $2,750 (an increase of $50) which is an annual increase to accommodate the expenses of running the campground: taxes, water, fuel, pool maintenance, entertainment, insurance and general maintenance. Those fees go up every single year. In 2009 I did NOT go up because my expenses remained relatively flat. If that happens again (which in this economy is probably unlikely) I will again share the savings with you! Thanks, M.
